DEATH OF DR. HARPER.

William Rainey Harper, president of the University of Chicago, died at 2:17 p. m. yesterday. Death occurred at the Harper home, Fifty-ninth street and Lexington avenue, Chicago. It came at the conclusion of an illness of about a year from cancer.

"God always helps; he always helps," was the last sentence uttered by President Harper. It was 10 minutes before the end. Immediately he passed into semi-sleep. The doctors were unable to determine whether it was a restful slumber or the coma which resulted from failing heart action.

Almost to the hour of death Dr. Harper's mind dwelt on the university.

Three years ago Dr. Harper underwent an operation for appendicitis. Cancerous symptoms followed recovery from this operation, and on February 22, 1905, an operation was decided on to determine the cause of severe abdominal pains.

It was discovered that Dr. Harper was suffering from a cancer at the head of the large intestine and that the malady had progressed so far that an operation to remove it would be fatal to the patient. The surgeons decided that the only hope of Dr. Harper lay in medical measures. In a short time he left the hospital, knowing that his disease could not be cured, and that his death must ensue within a short time. For two weeks Dr. Harper has failed rapidly. He and his family and friends recognized the approach of the end. His physical condition has been kept reasonably free from pain by the use of a very moderate amount of one of the derivatives of opium. His mind remained clear until the end. Physical exhaustion was the cause of death.

Dr. Harper left a statement outlining his wishes for the ceremonies of his funeral. A detail which he emphasized, both in writing and in person, was that no regular university exercise should be suspended except during the hours of the funeral services.

The body will remain in the family home until Saturday. It will then be carried across the campus to Haskell Assembly Hall, in the university grounds, escorted by the university band, the University Senate and the University Council, members of the Senate and the council acting as pallbearers.

The body will lie in state in Haskell Hall until Sunday after midday under a guard of honor composed of students of the university. The funeral services will be held in Mandel Hall, at the university, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. As part of the exercises addresses will be delivered by President Faunce, of Brown University; Chancellor Andrews, of the University of Nebraska, and Dean Judson, of the University of Chicago.

Dr. Harper, who received his bachelor's degree at the age of 14 years, was a man popular with men of business as well as with men of letters, and all united in praising him as a man of remarkable brilliance of mind, executive ability and kindness of heart. Dr. Harper was a Mason and member of many clubs.

Mrs. Morris's Case in Congress.

Mrs. Minor Morris, who was last week ejected from the executive offices and grounds of the White House, was yesterday in a state of complete collapse. Dr. Morris, her husband, stated that her condition is critical. Her physicians have refused to permit anyone to see her or to have any discussion of the affair in her presence.

The ejectment of Mrs. Minor Morris from the White House office building was made the subject of remarks by Mr. Sheppard (Texas) in the House yesterday.

Mr. Sheppard has a resolution for an investigation of the incident pending before the rules committee. As he proceeded to recount the details of the incident Mr. Grosvenor made the point of order that the discussion of a resolution pending before a committee was not proper. Besides, it had nothing to do with the tariff bill under consideration.

Mr. Sheppard replied that it had. "I object to a Chinese wall around the White House as well as around the United States," he declared.

"If the gentleman thinks it is a proper subject matter to arraign the President and his household, why let him go ahead," said Mr. Grosvenor.

"I will let the country judge of that," retorted Mr. Sheppard. "If the President had heard the howl of a wolf or the growl of a bear in the adjoining room he would have been on the scene immediately." He continued, characterizing the occurrence as an "unwarrantable and unnecessary brutality, which demanded investigation and merited censure."

"If Congress," he continued, "composed of American fathers, husbands, brothers, permits this incident to go unrebuked, it will add a passive and cowardly approval of this violation of the most sacred principle of American life."

At this point Mr. Payne, of New York, made the point of order that Mr. Sheppard was not discussing the bill under consideration, and when Mr. Olmstead, in the chair, ruled that it was customary when the House was in committee of the whole on the state of the union to allow great latitude, Mr. Payne remarked that he disliked to deprive the democratic party of a new issue, but he thought the speech was one which would be more in place in a police court that in the House.

Mr. Sheppard replied in defense of American womanhood, which, he said, had a place in the House, and concluded his speech with a tribute to the women of the nation.

Mr. Grosvenor took occasion to make a brief reply. He knew no difference between the dignity of the White House and any other home in the city, and he did not consider the American Congress in the sense of a police court or as having anything to do with the question of the disorderly conduct of any employee in the neighborhood of the White House. He did not believe any condition had arisen where the husband of the woman in question could not secure the proper redress. He was not one of those who believed that a sensation should be spread abroad damaging to the character of the American administration.

Introduced to King.

Harry St. George Tucker, president of the Jamestown Exposition Company, who was introduced by Charge d'Affaires Carter, was received in audience by King Edward yesterday morning. His majesty received Mr. Tucker cordially, and showed much interest in the proposal to send British naval and military contingents to the opening ceremonies at Jamestown in 1907, with the details of which he had been made acquainted through the foreign office, war office and admiralty. Mr. Tucker having expressed the desire in America that Great Britain be represented in proportion to her power as a naval and military nation, the King replied that Great Britain welcomed the opportunity of uniting with America in celebrating the birth of the American nation. It has been suggested that Field Marshal Lord Roberts should head the military contingent, and also that a member of the royal family should attend the exposition. Mr. Tucker mentioned this to the King. A personal message of President Roosevelt was delivered to his majesty, who sent a reply. Mr. Tucker will sail for home today.

Broke Through Ice.

While some 600 persons were skating on Custine Lake, an artificial pond out in Fairmount Park, near Philadelphia, last night, the ice collapsed. Almost everybody went in, but as the water is only three feet deep at the deepest part, the plunge was merely unpleasant. Immediately, however, there was a panic. Escorts fought with other men to get their fair charmers out of the ice water and out of the mob. There were many black eyes and skirts and coats were ripped to ribbons. Finally the park guards managed to get together and waded out after the sufferers. When the melee was over there was found only one who had been really much hurt. It was a very pitiable shivering crowd that besieged the cars afterwards and the pneumonia germ was jubilant.

Bent Her Double.

"I knew no one for four weeks when I was was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter, of Pittsburg, Pa., "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was relieved by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure, stomach, liver and kidney disorders; at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; price 50.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best Made

"In my opinion Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best made for colds," says Mrs. Cora Walker, of Poterville, California. There is no doubt about its being the best. No other will cure a cold so quickly. No other is so sure a preventive of pneumonia. No other is so pleasant and safe to take. These are good reasons why it should be preferred to any other. The fact is that few people are satisfied with any other after having once used this remedy. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Soothing and Comforting.

AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, JAN. 11, 1906

GOVERNOR MONTAGUE sent his last message to the legislature yesterday. The Governor's inaugural address four years ago attracted attention from the fact that it was comparatively brief and minus useless verbiage, abounding only in practical observations, such as should be made by a man about to occupy the gubernatorial chair. His last message is on the same lines, and his recommendations are such as would naturally emanate from an able man, a close observer and one who has made good use of his experience. Among other things he urges purity in elections; argues for compulsory education; recommends an increase of $200,000 for the public schools; shows the necessity for better public roads and says the State should aid the counties in road making; advocates the fitting up of a hall of fame and calls attention to certain needs in connection with insane institutions. He recommends what he considered to be needed appropriations for various purposes, but he advises against extravagance and protests against any reduction in the present low tax rate. He opposes corruption in politics and favors a law against corporation contributions to campaign funds; he also advises against any person paying another's poll tax and urges the passage of a law permanently disfranchising the man who sells his vote. The Governor concludes as follows:

Great opportunities are fast coming to Virginia and we must grasp them with the spirit of enterprise and progress. The demands of the hour cannot be met by past traditions nor excused by past misfortunes; but we should rather count these things as the energizing call for the renewal of our most patriotic efforts to place our beloved commonwealth in the forefront of the extraordinary, economic, intellectual and moral forces now at play in the world.

Governor Montague retires from the gubernatorial chair with the satisfaction of knowing that he has faithfully performed the duties of the high office and that his course has been approved by the people of the Old Dominion. He will always be remembered as one of the ablest of Virginia's executives.

BECAUSE he failed to obtain from the President the appointment of his own man as internal revenue collector at Indianapolis, Representative Overstreet, secretary of the republican campaign committee, has announced he will retire from that committee and give no further aid to the success of the republican party throughout the country. Representative Babcock, chairman of the committee, has also announced that he will withdraw. He, too, is dissatisfied with the President's methods of dispensing federal patronage. Senators Dick and Foraker and Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, are in open revolt because the President has decided not to reappoint an Ohio man as Consul at Glasgow, and has named a man from Tennessee. Other Congressmen are equally indignant, but are waiting to see what happens to Messrs. Overstreet, Dick, Foraker and others before they declare a general insurrection against the President. In his method of making federal appointments the President is making many enemies in House and Senate, and there are open grumblings from those Congressmen who consider federal patronage a political asset, and a merry war is predicted.

THE opposition to the enforcement of the vaccination law has reached the climax at the Spruce Run School, in Madison township, Pa., where "White Caps" have warned the teacher, Miss Mary Dye, that further observance upon her part of the law requiring that the school children be vaccinated would not be tolerated and would be dangerous to her. Upon her arrival at the school Monday Miss Dye found the warning, bearing the usual skull and cross-bones, nailed to the door. The teacher says she is not alarmed by the warning, and will keep the school open and enforce the law. Interesting developments are expected.

OVER 100 midshipmen have written to Congressmen asking for a "square deal" and objecting to a few first class men being made "goats." "Give us the opportunity to give our word and there will be no more hazing," said one midshipman. But this promise has been made many a time before, only to be broken, and it is now time that a fulfillment of that promise should be required of the cadets by those higher up.

From Washington.

Washington, Jan. 11.

President Roosevelt is now a full fledged Red Man. He was initiated into the order at the White House office building this morning. Grand Incohonee J. W. Cherry, of Norfolk; Past Grand Incohonee R. T. Daniel, of Griffin, Ga., and Great Chief of Records Wilson Brooks, of Chicago, officiating in the various branches of the initiation. Senator Kittredge, of South Dakota, who is an ardent member of the order, acted as master of ceremonies, and among those present, all of them members by the way, were Senator Dryden, of New Jersey; Representatives Loudenslager, of New Jersey; Sterling, of Illinois; Robberts, of Massachusetts; Rodenberg, of Illinois; Livingston, Bell and Bartlett, of Georgia. The order never before initiated an honorary member, and the President receives the distinction for his achievements as a patriotic American. Judge Daniel, Past Grand Incohonee, made the principal speech at the exercises, and President Roosevelt replied with a happy little three minutes talk. The Red Men left a beautifully engrossed set of resolutions extolling the President for his peace negotiations, which were passed at the last annual meeting of the order held last September at Nashville.

The interstate and foreign commerce committee of the House will meet tomorrow to take up the railroad rate question. The republicans of the committee have come to an understanding to support the Hepburn bill, which is in substance the bill introduced by Senator Dolliver in the upper house.

The formal investigation of the management of the Panama canal and Panama Railway Company, and of the canal zone government, as directed by the Senate was begun this morning at 11 o'clock by the Senate committee on oceanic canals. Secretary of War Taft met with the committee and behind close doors he furnished names of officials and employees who are in a position to furnish complete and positive information. It was decided that the hearings, which will begin Tuesday, will be public. Chief Engineer Stevens will be the first witness.

President Roosevelt today told Congressman Lamb, of Virginia, and a number of southern men who are property owners in Santo Domingo, that the quickest and surest way to put a stop to the revolutions down there is to pursuade the southern Senators to vote for the treaty now pending before the upper branch of Congress.

Secretary Taft today received from Brussels a dispatch from Major General George W. Davis, chairman of the board of consulting engineers of the Isthmian Canal Commission, stating that he had obtained the signatures of all the foreign engineers to the majority report of the board. He says that there have been many verbal changes made in the majority report and that he has mailed Secretary Taft a corrected copy. He suggests a deferment of publication of the report until the revised copy is received. General Davis will sail for the United States on January 20

It was stated at the New Willard Hotel this morning that Mrs. Minor Morris, the woman who was forcibly ejected from the White House a week ago, remains in a dangerous condition. At times she lapses into a comatose state.

A big surprise was sprung at the beginning of the hearing this morning before the Interstate Commerce Commission of the complaint of the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' Association against the principal railroads in the East and South by the statement of the attorneys for the eastern roads that at midnight last night the railroads had agreed among themselves to no longer charge freight on racking and stakes for lumber on flat or gondola cars. The southern roads granted this concession months ago.

Loss of an Oyster Pungy.

The oyster pungy James E. Stansbury, owned and commanded by Capt. John Marshall, and loaded with 900 bushels of oysters, carried away both masts, went ashore and was wrecked on the north side of Cedar Point, St. Marys county, Md,, Monday night. The accident happened about 8 p. m , during a fierce northerly gale. After the mast had gone by the board Captain Marshall attempted to anchor his dismantled vessel, but the anchor fouled with the jib and jibsheet and could not be cleared. Dredges were then thrown overboard to hold the vessel's head to the sea, but they proved insufficient. She slowly dragged back and about 10 p. m. struck bottom to the windward of Cedar Point and soon filled with water. Captain Marshall and his crew of 11 men then attempted to reach shore, which was only a short distance to leeward, in their yawl boat. The overloaded boat filled with water and it was only by a miracle that they escaped drowning, but luckily the heavy surf threw them up on the beach in an exhausted and half-frozen condition. They eventually made their way to the lighthouse, a few hundred yards away, where they were cared for the night by the keeper. The experience of the shipwrecked crew in the fierce and freezing gale in their desperate efforts to save their vessel, and finally to save their lives, was thrilling, and one they will likely remember. The vessel will likely be a total loss. The cargo may be saved.

Patterson's Story.

The young Henrico farmer, William W. Patterson, charged with attempted criminal assault on his 13-year-old sweetheart, Miss Cora Crittenden, went on the stand yesterday in his own behalf, and his testimony was quite as sensational as that of the girl yesterday. He declared that he regarded her as a gentleman would a lady; that he was in love with her and would have done anything he could for her; that they had quarreled many times, and that they quarreled the morning of the alleged crime, and that the girl threatened to "fix" him, even if she had to poison him. The girl Tuesday testified that Patterson had been in the woods with another girl, but not with her. The young man became so confused under cross-questioning yesterday that he could not tell his age. He refused to answer when asked if he had not made the statement that for three years he had been on terms of improper intimacy with Miss Crittenden. "I say that I will not answer that question," replied the witness. "I would not answer it though my refusal should damage my cause."

MONTAGUE'S MESSAGE.

Gov. Montague, in his annual message to the legislature, delivered in person yesterday, advocated a reorganization of the State's treasury department, the creation of a State board of charities, laws to prevent the excessive use of money in elections, better safeguards for primary elections, compulsory school attendance, and the State-aid plan for road improvement. He said, in part:

"I renew my former recommendation respecting the creation of a board of charities and corrections. Such a board would be of little expense and of great service. Many of the States, as well as the national government, have these boards, and in every instance efficiency of service has resulted from their co-operation and critical supervision.

"The condition of our revenues is growing more satisfactory under the reforms instituted by the new constitution. At the close of the fiscal year we had a balance of $666,432. We expect our revenues to increase from year to year; yet, with these figures, estimated by the first auditor, it is evident that we have no large sum for extraordinary appropriations, and that the utmost economy and discrimination should be practiced, for sound financiering demands that we look alone to our annual income rather than to a treasury balance which may not repeat itself.

"Therefore, with the great need of money for education, for roads, and for eleemosynary institutions, it is idle to think of a reduction of our already low rate of taxation, for we shall need for some years to come all the revenues we have, and more besides, to meet the growth and progressive necessities of our people.

"My former recommendations respecting the reorganization of the treasury department are renewed. The first auditor should settle, collect, and deposit all moneys coming to the State, but he should be wholly unauthorized to issue his warrant upon the treasurer for any sum whatever. The latter duty should be performed by the second auditor, who should make no collections or deposits, and his warrants alone should be recognized by the treasurer. Such a rearrangement, if properly safeguarded by a system of bookkeeping wherein the entries of moneys received or paid out in these three offices could be identified with accuracy and ease, would result in the best possible protection of the funds of the treasurer. The concurrent and complimentary accounts of the three officials would thus reveal any mistake which could be disclosed by the most efficient business methods. Nor should this rearrangement entail additional cost, for the number of men required to conduct the entire treasury department would be no greater than now.

"Comprehensive civil service regulations authorized by statute and applicable in the appointment and retention of all clerks in the offices of the treasury department would be a beneficial achievement. The conduct of this business should be analogous to that of safe and sound banking institutions. A system of civil service should also be extended to all employees of the penitentiary and insane hospitals, other than their respective superintendents and assistants, and to the police, janitors, conductors of elevators, and machinists employed at the seat of government.

"The selection of these officials, as well as their tenure of office, should be determined wholly by efficiency and character, and removed entirely from the suspicion of political considerations.

"The excessive use of money in elections should excite the alarm of all patriots, and I would, therefore, urge legislation not only prohibitory of all campaign contributions by corporations, but of the right of doing business by any corporation which makes any contribution, directly or indirectly, in or without the State, for the purpose of influencing any election in this State, primary or regular."

The Legislature.

In the Senate chamber carpenters hurriedly grabbed up tools, lumber and sawhorses from the much-bestrewn floor, carpet-liners rose from their knees and gathered up odds and ends of the carpet. In the meantime the hall was filled with members, standing in groups, while janitors cleaned away sawdust. Then the stentorian voice of the sergeant-at-arms called loudly, "Bring on those chairs," and a dozen janitors rushed the seats into the room, placed them in a sweeping circle before the president's platform, and the Virginia Senate was called to order.

A scene of a similar kind was enacted in the House, though with less disorder. There were no desks for either house.

Several carloads of handsome desks left Milwaukee December 31, and they are lost somewhere. Temporary desks or tables will be provided.

These conditions brought no confusion, and in House and Senate the prearranged order of the day was carried out without a hitch.

Lieutenant Governor Willard having resigned to become a member of the Corporation Commission and Lieutenant Governor-elect Ellyson not commencing his term until February 1, Clerk Joseph Button called the Senate to order. The Senators were sworn by him and Senator Henry F. Wickham was elected president pro tem. Senator Noel, representing the minority party, said that having full confidence in the fairness of the candidate, the republicans would make no nomination. The election of the other caucus nominees followed.

The rules of the last session were adopted.

A remarkable thing occurred when the clerk of the House, John W. Williams, called that body to order. Every man of the 100 members answered the roll-call. So complete an attendance cannot be recalled by the oldest attache of the legislature.

W. D. Cardwell was elected speaker without a dissenting voice. The caucus nominations were quickly confirmed.

The feature of the day was the reading in the joint assembly of the Governor's message by himself.

The republican members of the general assembly held a joint caucus yesterday and organized by electing Senator J. C. Noel chairman and Delegate J. Powell Royall secretary. It was decided that the republican members would make no nomination for officers, either in the House or Senate, and would make no opposition to the democratic nominees. Senator J. C. Noel was elected floor leader for his party in the Senate, and J. Powell Royall for the same position in the House.

No bills were presented in either body yesterday.

Affairs in Russia.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 11.—The workingmen's council is arranging details for the monster procession which it is proposed to hold on January 22, the anniversary of Red Sunday, in memory of the "martyrs" who were killed on that day. It is reported that the government intends to proclaim martial law in the city on January 21, and continue the order in effect until all danger of disorders is over. If this course is taken it may result in a serious collision between the troops and the people, as the leaders of the workmen declare the street procession will be held whatever the government does.

The terrorists have resorted to a new method of trying to harm their enemies by sending packages containing explosives through the mails. Hardly a day goes by but what some such package is sent by post. Yesterday two postal employees were killed while examining a suspicious parcel which exploded.

Insurance Broker Arrested.

New York, Jan. 11.—Samuel Humphreys, said to be an insurance broker, with offices at No. 49 Wall street, was arrested at the Manhattan end of the Brooklyn bridge this morning by Detective Sergeant Downey. The arrest was made at the request of Assistant District Attorney Garvin. Humphreys was taken to police headquarters where he will remain until the arrival of Chas. Augustus Seton, the promoter, who was arrested in Turkeytown, near Elkton, Md., last evening, for alleged connection with the forgery of stock certificates of the Norfolk & Western Railway Company. Humphrey's part in the case is said to be in connection with an attempt to raise a loan of $15,000 on two of the alleged fraudulent certificates. Seton is said to have inherited more than $40,000 from the estate of his father, a well-known resident of Cleveland. Seton is said to have shot his parent while in a barn alone at the back of the residence. The explanation was that he had been shooting rats when a misdirected bullet killed his father. The young man is credited with a photograph in the Rogues' Gallery, both in Cleveland and here. He is under indictment here on the charge of grand larceny, and was to have been placed on trial on Monday next. He was at liberty on $5,000 bail.

Humphreys was arraigned this morning before Magistrate Finn in the Centre street police station, on a short affidavit and held in $2,500 bail. He was remanded back to headquarters.

Annapolis Court Martial.

Annapolis, Md., Jan. 11.—After summoning up the proceedings of yesterday, the second trial of Midshipman Stephen Decatur, jr., before the court martial was resumed this morning. The court adjourned from yesterday after having failed to reach a conclusion as to what degree Midshipman Marzoni, who was a previous witness, might go in his testimony concerning the hazing incidents of the present charges against Decatur. Judge Advocate Harrison was asked to give the court more light on this matter. The Judge Advocate cited several authorities on evidence pertaining to a witness incriminating himself, but said that the present case was of such a peculiar nature that he was unable to find anything bearing directly on it. The court was then cleared and when re opened, announced that Marzoni would have to answer the questions of the Judge Advocate, but in so doing to confine himself to the incidents of hazing related in his previous testimony. Witness then testified as to Church being ordered into the do the "16th," but did not know whether he performed or not. Marzoni said several other upper class men were in the room, but could not say whether Decatur was the senior cadet officer present at the time

Railroad Accidents.

St. Louis, Jan. 11.—Six persons were painfully injured and ten others frightened almost into a State of hysteria, this morning when a Pullman car attached to a train on the Eastern Wabash Railway division from Chicago toppled from the elevated railroad tracks here on the levee. Fortunately the ends of the car were caught by four girders at one end and by broken telegraph poles at the other, forming a bridge over a depression in the ground. Into this depression several passengers who plunged through the windows fell. The most seriously injured was Mrs. J. G. Pomeroy, who fell through a window as the car fell over.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 11 —A special from Ogden says it is reported that the fast mail train on the Southern Pacific has been wrecked at Monetello Hill, 120 miles from Ogden.

The engine was demolished, but no one was severely hurt and the track was soon cleared.

Rossa a Maniac.

Hackensack, N. J., Jan. 11.—If Jerry Rossa were to be executed tomorrow, the State of New Jersey would have hanged a raging maniac. Rossa, who with Mrs. Antoniette Tolla, was reprieved by the board of pardons yesterday for thirty days, was told of the news shortly after midnight last night, to save the man's mind from giving way. Mrs. Tolla took the news quietly and calmly. Sheriff Mercer did not expect to tell Mrs. Tolla or Rossa until today of the reprieve, but Rossa's condition was such that his mind was on the point of giving way. Rossa would crouch in the corner and cry out in fear at the slighest sound. Then he would become abusive and swear and curse at his imaginary enemies.

Still After Depew.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 11.—Senator Brackett's efforts to again gain consideration for his resolution demanding the resignation of United States Senator Depew were blocked this morning for the third time, when the resolution came before the Senate. Majority leader Raines who has hitherto proved one of the chief stumbling blocks in its passage moved that discussion be postponed until next Tuesday when it should be a special order. Senator Brackett made no protest, so the motion to postpone discussion prevailed.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Jan. 11.—The stock market, after absorbing immense supplies of stocks that have been fed it since the beginning of the year, was hungry for more this morning, and the exchange was full of buying orders, many of them for 5,000 and 10,000 share lots. A considerable short interest is believed to have been created in commission house circles, but the buying this morning was largely for long account.

He wanted violators to be denied the use of the mails.

HOUSE.

The bill will continue to have the right of way, pension legislation, which was to occupy Friday, being postponed until the Philippine measure shall have been disposed of. Floor leader Payne announced that he would ask that the debate close with Saturday's session.

Mr. Williams interrupted to ask whether General Grosvenor's purpose was to convey the idea that the New England States had been brought up by the hand of the republican party.

"By the hand of God and the republican party," quickly replied General Grosvenor.

Williams: "I confiratulate the gentleman from Ohio on his magnanimity in naming God for once as the senior member of the firm."

Mr. Williams took the floor and supported the bill on the ground that it was a step in the right direction of free trade between the islands and the United States.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

The cause of the suicide of Leland W. Prior, the Cleveland, Ohio, stock broker, is believed by the bankers who are probing his accounts to have been that he sold forged municipal bonds in various parts of the country. In addition to this, he was heavily involved with customers for whom he was supposed to be carrying the New York Stock Exchange accounts.

Bonaparte's Love Letter Sold.

Much surprise has been felt in Paris at the recent sale in Berlin for $600 of an autograph letter of Napoleon Bonaparte to Josephine. The epistle, which is of the amorous description, was addressed from Verona to La Citoyenne Bonsparte. Napoleon was then commanding the army in Italy and regrets his absence from his dear little Josephine. The tone of the entire letter was warm and passionate.

It is not explained how the document found its way to Berlin. Ardent admirers of the first Napoleon who want to find some justification for the divorce of Josephine affirm in connection with this letter than when it was written Josephine, who had refused to join her victorious husband in northern Italy, was amusing herself in Paris with other men.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed portion of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Public Roads.

Noticing in your paper that one of the subjects to be acted upon by our next legislature was public roads, and as I have been connected with the public roads of Mt. Vernon district for about forty years, I would like to call the attention of our county and the State to the condition of one of the oldest roads in the district, lying between two of Washington's farms from Gum Spring to Mt. Vernon, about 2 miles in length. Some part of this road is not more than 8 feet wide perhaps; 6 two horse teams cannot pass and as the ladies of the United States have bought up Mt. Vernon and are making it one of, if not the most beautiful spots in America, I am in hopes there is patriotism enough left in the men to build a decent road from Little Hunting Creek to the new road leading to Mt. Vernon station. The present one is a disgrace to any county.

Very respectfully.

The Opera House.

Why is it that Alexandria has had so few attractions at the Opera House in the last year or so? We should have one show a week, at least, if not two. I am sure the best of patronage would be given them if they were good ones, and yet we have them semi-occasionally. The management of the Opera House doubtless know their business, but I don't see any reason why we should have so few attractions, while even smaller cities in Virginia have them each week. The Alexandria theatre would be better patronized if the shows were more frequent.

Invitations Extended.

Messrs. A. D. Brockett, President of the George Washington Birthday Association; J. H. Trimyer and C. T. Howard, vice presidents, and J. Y. Williams, secretary, Mayor Paff and ex-Mayor Downham, accompanied by Congressman Rixey, called on the President today and extended an invitation to him to attend the 22d of February celebration in this city. The President received the delegation in a cordial manner and stated that he had declined all invitations for the 22d proximo, but would, however, take this one under consideration. He said he would certainly visit Alexandria during one of the celebrations in this city before he retired from the Presidency.

The delegation subsequently visited the Secretary of the Navy, who stated that he would send two companies of marines, accompanied by the Marine Band to Alexandria, and, if possible, would have a naval vessel to anchor off the city on the 22d of February, and order one of the companies of sailors to take part in the parade.

The committee later called at the office of Secretary of the War. The latter was not present, but Gen. Chaffee, chief of staff, stated that he would order to Alexandria a squadron of cavalry from Fort Myer, accompanied by a mounted band, a company of heavy artillery and a company of light artillery from Fort Hunt, and two companies of infantry from Fort Washington.

The committee later called upon Vice President Fairbanks and extended an invitation to him to be present on the occasion of the parade. The latter said he recalled with pleasure his visit to Alexandria on the last 22d of February, and while he had declined other invitations to participate in 22d celebrations this year, he would make an effort to accept that extended by Alexandria.

Both the Virginia Senators were seen and they accepted the invitations, as did also the three District Commissioners and Major Sylvester, Chief of Police of the District of Columbia.

The delegation was unable to see Governor-elect Swanson, who was not in Washington, but over the telephone to Annapolis made arrangements for meeting Governor Warfield at a later date in order to extend an invitation to him.

The delegation were more than pleased with the result of their visit to Washington.

As Impenetrable as Ever.

The mystery surrounding the death of George B. Curtin, whose remains were found in a dock last Monday morning, seems to be as far from solution as ever, although the authorities have been untiring in their efforts to unravel the affair. The latest information concerning the unfortunate man's whereabouts is to the effect that he was seen on north Lee street in company with two men between 2 and 3 o'clock on the morning of December 24. Where he subsequently went and the facts in connection with his death are still unknown to the police, nor have they yet discovered any clue likely to lead to the unraveling of the mystery.

About midnight on Saturday, December 23, Curtin was in the western portion of the city and had visited certain public houses. He left that locality in a cab and, it is said, was driven to a public house in the eastern part of the city. He later appeared on north Lee street, where he visited several houses and between 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning was seen in company with two men. Nothing further could be learned of him until his mutilated body was discovered Monday morning.

During most of the night of December 23 north Lee street was thronged with people who were passing and repassing, and the fact that Curtin was seen with two men attracted no special interest. There was at the same time some excitement on King street, an alleged gambling house having been raided, which concentrated the attention of the officers on duty that night to that locality.

The police are still hopeful and believe they will eventually solve the mystery and identify the murderer or murderers.

All sorts of rumors have been current on the streets this afternoon concerning the murder, but many of them were without foundation. One report was to the effect that Curtin's clothes had been found at the Virginia House, on upper King street, and that the deceased had registered there early on the morning of the 24th of December. This is denied by the police.

Later Detective Ticer, of Washington, and several Alexandria officers searched the Tontine Hotel for traces of Curtin, but the search was without result, as was a similar search of the old Braddock House.

Acquitted of Charge.

Whitney J. Hall, the former messenger in the Department of Justice, who was arrested December 4, charged with having forged the name of L. M. Blackford, principal of the Episcopal High School, near this city, to a check for $3,000, which he afterward cashed at the Commercial National Bank in Washington, was yesterday found not guilty of the charges in the indictment. The verdict was returned by a jury in Criminal Court No. 2, in Washington, by direction of Justice Gould, presiding, when it was shown by the testimony that the young man was mentally unbalanced and not responsible for his act. Justice Gould ordered that Hall be committed, under the provisions of the District code, to await action by the Secretary of the Interior committing him to the government asylum.

Directors Elected.

River Notes.

The hull of the launch built at the vulcanizing factory wharf at this place, and purchased by Mr. Henry Hempler, of Washington, while on the stocks, has been put overboard and taken to Dean's boatyard, where it will be equipped with a gasoline power engine, and will be fitted up for service on the river during the coming summer.

The large sailing sloop built and owned by Mr. Arthur King of this city will be used on the Potomac during the coming summer. She is now lying at the boat repair yard on Jones's Point.

The mild winter and the entire absence of ice up to date on the Potomac has caused an early start in the preparations for hauling seine at a number of the fishing shores along the river, and the prospects are that they will be in operation a month or six weeks earlier than they have been for several years past.

Charged With Bigamy.

J. R. Hunter, formerly of this city, was arrested in Roanoke Tuesday night on a charge of bigamy, sworn out by M. J. Green, of Newport News, who alleges he married his daughter, Nellie Green, in August, 1904, having already been married to Ada Langley, of Alexandria. Hunter is a theatrical man, is connected with the Academy at Roanoke, and was formerly with the Academy at Newport News. Wife No. 2 received a letter from wife No. 1, giving the information. She returned to her parents at Newport News immediately from Roanoke, and states that Hunter confessed to her, but said he left his wife in this city immediately after the ceremony. Hunter served as a courier in the Philippine war, and had his foot broken by his horse falling on him which foot had to be amputated. His parents live at East Orange, N. J.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

A white man, arrested by Officer Arrington charged with being drunk and disorderly, was sent to jail for five days.

William Brent, colored, arrested by Officers Beach, Jones and Knight charged with escaping from the chain gang, had thirty days added to his sentence.

Railroad Work.

A large quantity of stone in large blocks, for use in the building of the new piers for the railway bridge over the tidal basin outlet at the foot of 14th street southwest Washington has been delivered at the bridge. A force of workmen are employed in putting in the concrete base on which the piers will stand, and the work on the stone portion of the pier will be started in a few days.

The construction of the piers for the bridge that will carry the new tracks of the Washington Southern Railway over Gravelly run, on the Virginia side of the river, near the old Alexander Island race track, has been completed and a temporary bridge has been thrown across the stream.

Installation of Officers

At the meeting of L. U. 1058, B. P. D. & P. of A., the following officers were installed: Howard T. Colvin, president; E. B. Hardin, vice president; Wallace C. Evans, financial secretary and treasurer; Jno. L. Proctor, recording secretary; H. A. Kelly, conductor; Edward W. McCormick, warden; Jno. H. Wilkins, trustee. After the meeting adjourned the members repaired to Zimmerman's resturant, where refreshments were served.

Bad Crossing.

Chronic complaint is made of the condition of the crossing at Wolfe and Henry streets. There are a number of railroad track at that point, and, apart from the danger incurred in crossing, the intersection has for a long time been unsightly and in bad weather mud renders it extremely uncomfortable to all compelled to pass and repass. Railroad officials have repeatedly promised to remedy existing conditions, but have so far failed to do so.

Week of Prayer.

Services in connection with the week of prayer were held in the M. E. Church South last night, and were conducted by Rev. Edgar Carpenter and Rev. Dr. Fisher. There was a large attendance and the services were interesting throughout. The meeting will be held in Trinity M. E. Church tonight and will be conducted by Rev. Messrs. J. P. Stump and Edgar Carpenter. "Society evangelized" will be the subject treated.

Officers Elected.

At a meeting of the Alexandria Social Club held Monday, January 8, the following officers were elected for one year: C. H. Zimmerman, president; James W. Pettey, vice president; Samuel J. Elliott, financial secretary; Henry A. Schlichting, treasurer; John L. Proctor, secretary. After which the members adjourned to Zimmerman's restaurant where a hearty repast was partaken of.

Gen. Lee's Birthday.

The arrangements for the proper observance of Gen. Lee's birthday, January 19, are fast being completed and the banquet to be given at Lee Camp Hall that night will doubtless be well attended. Among the speakers that have promised to be present are Senator J. C. S. Blackburn, of Kentucky, and Representative Champ Clarke, of Missouri.

Cured His Mother of Rheumatism.

"My mother has been a sufferer for many years from Rheumatism," says W. H. Howard of Husband, Pennsylvania. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried, in fact, she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with." For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

The Smoot Will Case.

The taking of testimony in the Smoot will case was resumed today in the Corporation Court and was along the same line as that of yesterday evening—to show that the deceased, Mrs. Frances P. Smoot, was of sound mind and competent to make a will at the time it was drawn. The case dragged slowly along without a single exciting incident, and the testimony of the several witnesses was about to the same effect—that the deceased was of sound and disposing mind, all of them having had business transactions with her. The witnesses who had been examined up to the time court took a recess at 1 o'clock were: Messrs. H. K. Field, Thos. Hoy, Randolph Bartor, of Boston; P. F. Gorman, Jos. Hardy, Calvert Perry and Willis Goodrich.

Miss Rose Ella Smoot contests the probating of the will on the ground that undue influence was exercised over her mother while she was mentally incapable of drawing such a document and in his statement yesterday Mr. Brent, attorney for the contestant, charged Rev. W. Strother Jones, the rector of St. Michael's Episcopal Church, of Trenton, N. J., and a brother-in-law of the contestant, with having influenced Mrs. Smoot in the making of her last will and testament. Opposing Miss Smoot are her sisters, Mrs. Jones, wife of the Rev. W. Strother Jones, and Mrs. Burch, the wife of the Rev. Francis M. Burch, rector of an Episcopal church in Clarke County. Among other claims made by Mr. Brent in his address to the jury was one to the effect that Mrs. Smoot's will was drawn by Judge Vroom, of Trenton, N. J., an attorney with whom she had never had previous business relations, and that the will was made while she was a guest at the home of the Rev. W. Strother Jones and was then brought to this city for execution. Miss Smoot objects to the appointment of Rev. W. Strother Jones as trustee of her share of the estate, and, further, to the fact that she is deprived under the will of a fee simple interest in the estate, which is accorded to other heirs.

U. S. Court.

[Judge Edmund Waddill presiding.]

The grand jury returned the following indictments:

J. W. Rice for taking property seized by a deputy collector of internal revenue for the government.

The grand jury was then discharged.

Harry Miller indicted for an assault on Wm. Tarleton, jury and verdict of not guilty and the accused discharged. The judge administered a rebuke to Miller and told him he had gotten off mainly on a technicality. Miller is a conductor on the electric road and had some difficulty with Tarleton on account of some tickets the latter held.

The cases of William H. Bosley, the Suffolk and Carlina Railway Company and the Gay Manufacturing Company, indicted for violating interstate commerce laws, were continued and set for trial in Norfolk.

Court adjourned until tomorrow.

Will Probated.

THURSDAY EVENING, JAN. 11, 1906.

Woman Fatally Burned.

Instincts of maternal love triumphed over physical torture yesterday on the top floor of the five-story house at 1069 Park avenue, New York, when Mrs. Max Hamburg, with her clothing all aflame, flung from her a three-year-old child and then ran into a hallway, closing the door behind her to keep the baby from following her. Mrs. Hamburg was in her kitchen preparing food on a gas stove when her dress caught from the flame. She screamed, and her little daughter, playing at her feet, ran toward her. In her own peril and with her hair already ablaze the mother had thought for her baby. She shoved the child off and then fled into the corrider screaming. Half way down the first flight of steps she fell, setting fire to the stair carpet. When the fire was put out Mrs. Hamburg was removed to Flower Hospital in an ambulance. She is unconscious, and her head, body and limbs are so horribly burned that she cannot live. The child was saved.

Woman Left on Doctor's Hands

A young woman of rare beauty of face and form, not more than 20 years old, with natural blond hair, blue eyes and expensively dressed in a tailor-made gown, rich furs and valuable jewels, was reported to the New York police yesterday afternoon by Dr. Thomas Acken, to have been unconscious in his home since 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning, when she left there by two men, who hurried away without giving their names. The men also were richly dressed in fur overcoats, evening clothes and top hats They drove to Dr. Acken's residence in a cab and aroused him from sleep, and informed him that the young woman was suffering from aphasia. "Do what you can for her and we will return later," they said. Every effort to arouse the young woman failed. Dr. Acken called in Dr. Brainerd and two nurses. All four worked over the girl for hours, without being able to elicit any sign of intelligence from her.

Will Challenge Again.

Sir Thomas Lipton is making plans for another campaign against the New York Yacht Club next year, and the bone of contention will be the America's Cup for which the popular Irish baronet already has tried three times. A letter received in New York this week from Sir Thomas says he still has hopes of capturing the famous trophy, and is considering plans for the building of a new challenger, which he hopes to have here some time in 1907. Just what plans he is making now he will not divulge, but he is pleased to think that the next time he comes he can bring a good, wholesome type of boat, and will be met by one built under certain restrictions that will bar excessive overhangs and other freakish features.

The Diamond Cure.

The latest news from Paris, is, that they have discovered a diamond cure for consumption. If you fear consumption or pneumonia, it will, however, be best for you to take that great remedy mentioned by W. T. McGee, of Vanleer, Tenn. "I had a cough for fourteen years. Nothing helped me until I took Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which gave instant relief and affected a permanent cure." Unequalled quick cure for Throat and Lung Troubles. At E S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; price 50c and $1.00, guaranteed. Trial bott'e free.

Stomach Troubles and Constipation.

"Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are the best thing for stomach troubles and constipation I have ever sold," says J. R. Cullman, a druggist of Potterville, Mich. They are easy to take and always gives satisfaction. I tell my customers to try them and if not satisfactory to come back and get their money, but have never had a complaint." For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

Many sufferers from nasal catarrh say they get splendid results by using an atomizer. For their benefit we prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Except that it is a liquid it is in all respects like the healing, helpful, pain-allaying Cream Balm that the public has been familiar with for years. No cocaine nor other dangerous drug in it. The soothing spray relieves at once and cure is certain. All druggists, 75c., including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

A Liquid Cold Cure.

For coughs and colds no remedy is equal to Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar—the Liquid Cold Cure. It is different from all others—better, because it expels all cold from the system by acting as a cathartic on the bowels. Gives strength to weak lungs. Affords immediate relief in Croup, Coughs, Colds, Whooping-Cough, etc. Children love it. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

New-York Daily Tribune.

If you are looking for a daily history of the world, carefully collated and sifted and presented in the most attractive form that the facts and the laws of good taste will permit, you cannot make any mistake in reading The Tribune every day. It contains special articles on nearly every subject which is supposed to interest intelligent and clean-minded people. With The Sunday Tribune goes a handsome Illustrated Supplement and a Magazine, with colored covers, equal to anything sold or ten cents.
